

REBUKES DEMOCRATS FOR FALSE CHARGES

WILLCOX DECLARES CARTOON WAS MISREPRESENTATION.

DECLARES IT WAS MALICIOUS

NEW YORK, November 6.—The following explanatory letter has been sent by William R. Willcox, chairman of the Republican national committee, to Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee:

"Dear Sir:—In this morning's papers there is a full-page cartoon of Mr. Willcox published in the name of the Democratic national committee. The cartoon is false and malicious in every line and word. It is a deliberate attempt to misrepresent Mr. Willcox's attitude on the vital questions of the day. The quotation upon which the cartoon rests, purporting to quote from Mr. Willcox's Milwaukee speech, is false in every word. Neither in Milwaukee nor anywhere else has he made any such statement.

Campaign of Deception.

"This cartoon, with its false quotation, is a fitting climax to a campaign of deception and misrepresentation which your committee has conducted from the beginning. It endeavors to place Governor Hughes in opposition to policies which he was as Governor of New York the most conspicuous exponent. It has then and now the enemy of inviolable government. His every public act was straightforward, and he has been kept back by deeds.

"He was as Governor and will be as President the protector of the people against greed. His first public service resulted in a marked reduction in the price of gas and electricity to consumers in New York city. His next service resulted in a saving to every life insurance policy holder in the United States. It was his advocacy of workmen's compensation legislation that started that movement throughout the country.

"While he was Governor of New York every law was enacted which those who were concerned with protecting children from labor. Eight-hour laws signed by him as Governor meant eight hours a day only. They were not laws under which work could be carried on for any number of hours.

For Real Peace With Honor.

"Governor Hughes is a man of peace. His whole life has been devoted to the settlement of controversies by peaceful methods. He knows, however, that this country can not be secure in peace unless it deserves the respect of the world by standing firmly for the rights of its citizens, which the Democratic administration has not done. It is he who stands for peace with honor.

"In the national campaign of 1908 he advocated the tariff commission. The Republicans created one and the Democrats abolished it. Far more important, however, than a tariff commission is the tariff legislation that is to be enacted.

"The labor and the industries of this country need a protective tariff. Governor Hughes stands for a protective tariff. He is against the reduction of wages and the unemployment which will result from the Underwood bill, which would still with us were it not for the war-created prosperity, and which only a Republican administration and congress can save us from when the war ends.

"For your committee to conclude its campaign by attributing to Mr. Hughes a statement which he never made, is practically ended, and at a time when you think it can not be caught up by the Democrats, simply caps the climax and shows the desperate state to which the Democratic management has been driven at a moment when it is well known your cause is lost and defeat stares you in the face.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM R. WILLCOX.

EVERY REPUBLICAN IS URGED TO CAST HIS VOTE

(Special to The Indianapolis News)

WINAMAC, Ind., November 6.—Before making a tour of Pulaski county last week, when James P. Goodrich and Harry S. New were scheduled to speak, the Republican county committee issued a circular, which, in part, followed:

"The poll, registration and straw votes of the whole country show conclusively that Hughes and Fairbanks will be elected. There is absolutely no doubt about it. But we want to go farther than that. We want to elect the whole ticket in Indiana, and especially in Pulaski county. Every township is thoroughly organized, and we now want to put the finishing touches on Monroe county. The poll shows Monroe township about 100 Democratic, as usual. But you know it never gets that much on election day. It will not get that much this year, particularly if every Republican does his part.

"Listen! We know of sixty-three Democrats in this county who are going to vote for Hughes and Fairbanks and most of them for the whole Republican ticket! You know what that means! It means that we will carry this county if every Republican votes his ticket and does his part in getting out the vote. That means you! Don't let your neighbor Republican forget to vote. See that he votes early. Take him with you when you go to the polls. And take every other voter whom you can get to vote the Republican ticket. Listen! If we can get the Democratic majority in Monroe township to fifty or less, we carry the county. These are all facts, not guesses. It is merely up to the Republican voters now. Help put Pulaski permanently in the Republican column. You can do it!"

ing the Democrats of making false statements in a political cartoon was shown to Chairman McCormick, of the Democratic national committee, he said: "Mr. Willcox had better file his dying political will with some of the leading newspapers supporting Mr. Hughes, notably the New York Sun and the Chicago Tribune, from whose telegraphic reports of Mr. Hughes's Milwaukee speech this quotation was taken.

"The September account of the Milwaukee speech, printed on the first page in its issue of September 21, said: 'The first burst of applause came when Mr. Hughes said that the La Follette shipping bill must be repealed; the next when he said that the Underwood tariff must be replaced by a protective tariff, and the third when he declared that the whole Democratic legislative accomplishment must be wiped out of the books for the good of the country.' 'Why this eleventh hour buncombe about a statement which has appeared repeatedly in cartoons and advertisements of our publicity bureau since September 21, without its authenticity being questioned?'

"Even though it comes in this manner, I am glad to know that Mr. Hughes approves of the accomplishments of President Wilson and his administration. His speeches during the last four months have evidently led me to reach an erroneous conclusion."

MRS. M. G. MILLS, 60, DEAD.

Was Active Member of Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Margaret Gladys Mills, age sixty, died early today at her home in Ben Davis. Her husband, D. D. Mills, and two sons, Harrison H. Mills, of Ben Davis, and Robert G. Mills, of Indianapolis, survive. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m., at the Friends' church, in Bridgeport, of which she was a member.

Mrs. Mills was for many years an active member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. She was a charter member of the Bridgeport W. C. T. U., organized in 1886, serving as president for a number of years. She also was president of the Danville union and of the Vayner union, of Indianapolis.

SUPPORT OF REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET IS URGED

GOOD CITIZENS LEAGUE ISSUES APPEAL TO COLORED VOTERS.

OFFERED TO MACHINE RULE

The executive board of the Good Citizens' League, at a meeting Saturday, prepared and issued to the colored voters of Indianapolis a statement urging the support of the Republican county ticket. The statement follows:

"In giving attention to the great national issues of the day it is possible that many of our people have overlooked the importance of the local ticket. We believe that good home government is a most vital issue, which, wrongly decided, will make our existence miserable. We therefore urge the negroes of Marion county to rebuke the Bell-Perrott machine, which has maintained a consistent and wicked policy of brutality and intimidation against the colored citizen. Voting for Alvin J. Rucker for prosecutor, because Mr. Rucker has kept his promises to the good people of this city.

Rucker, Coffin, Hayes.

"After the most careful investigation, we are convinced beyond all shadow of doubt that the opposition to Rucker, Coffin and Hayes has been brought about wholly through the powers of the machine rule and other corrupt devices. The way to help Rucker in his fearless fight for civic righteousness is to go to the polls early on Tuesday morning and vote the straight Republican ticket. Beware of the man who would have you scratch sheep's clothing. He may be a 'wolf in sheep's clothing'."

F. B. Ransom, president of the league, said the league had asked for the support of the colored voters for the local Republican ticket before this time because the organization, to this year, had been nonpolitical and it was felt it could better accomplish its purposes by not alienating itself with local politics and because the organization did not favor the election of Rucker and other good men.

"As far as I know now, every member of the league will heartily support Alvin J. Rucker because he is making the fight for a better citizenship in Indianapolis for all the people," Mr. Ransom said.

Cast Ballots Intelligently.

"The good citizens expect to lay aside their work this year," Mr. Ransom said, "and go to the polls to see to it that those who are not aware of the many shrewd devices of the machine have an opportunity to cast their ballots intelligently for the men of their choice."

Mr. Ransom said many of the colored ministers had emphasized from their pulpits that it was a part of the duty of every Christian to stand up for the men who are working to crush out the vice in this city, and that it could be done only through the ballot.

The other officers of the league are Dr. W. E. Brown, vice-president; R. L. Brockmeyer, secretary, and the Rev. John Brice, chairman of the executive committee.

"An Old Sweetheart of Mine," otherwise known as the Riley play, came to a halt at the close of its engagement in St. Louis Saturday night. It is said the tour may be resumed after an interval of two or three weeks.

Powys Lecture Postponed.

Owing to the competitive power of tomorrow's national ceremonies, John Cowper Powys will not give his lecture on the new movement in poetry at Tudor hall, as announced for tomorrow evening. Instead he will act out his ideas on the subject on the Tudor platform later in the winter, probably in February, in connection with his second course of lectures there.

Julie Ring "Reigns" in Vaudeville.

There's a flood of comedy at Keith's this week; also a very large pool containing real water, mermaids and divers. And—another also—there's a genuine made-in-America rainstorm during the action of the sketch "Twice a Week," which is presented by Julie Ring. Julie is the sister of Blanche Ring and has succeeded Blanche in such plays as "The Yankee Girl" and "The Wall Street Girl." Julie Ring was also leading woman in "Get Rich Quick Wallingford." She is here in a little skit from the pen of John B. Hymer entitled "Twice a Week." The rainstorm is all so real that one wonders if the windows are closed at home.

Notes of the Stage.

After two seasons' absence, Rose Stahl returned to English's the latter half of this week in George V. Hobart's dramatization of the Edna Ferber "Roast Beef, Medium" stories. The play is called "Our Mrs. McChesney" and carries the doughty Emma through various adventures.

The allegorical play, "Which One Shall I Marry?" begins a week's engagement at the Park today. It is the Almsworth Arnold, a member of the Forepaugh stock company when that organization held the boards at the Majestic.

Election returns will be received at the Lyric by special wire tomorrow night, and these performances will be given during the "Around the Town" company, the first starting at the usual hour.

2 WOMEN SWALLOW POISON

Lulu Maxwell and Mrs. Alice Basey Take Drugs—Neither Is Dead.

Lulu Maxwell, age twenty-one, Plaza hotel, was sent to the city hospital yesterday, suffering from the effects of poison which she had swallowed. It is not known whether it was taken with suicidal intent.

The young woman sent a bellboy after the poison yesterday. After taking some of it she sent for a physician. No reason has been assigned for a suicidal attempt. It is said she has attempted to take her life before.

Mrs. Alice Basey, age thirty-seven, 805 East Washington street, took carbolic acid in her home in an attempt to end her life. She was taken to the city hospital, where it was said her condition was not serious. She has been dependent since the death of her husband several weeks ago.

INCENDIARY AGAIN IS ACTIVE

Fire Started in a Vacant House at 319 Ellsworth Street.

An incendiary, who has terrorized the neighborhood of Blue and New York streets by frequently setting fire to sheds and barns, appeared again last night and started a fire in a vacant house at 319 Ellsworth street. Firemen were called, and extinguished the flames before serious damage was done. It was the third fire for which the incendiary was responsible in twenty-four hours.

Residents of the neighborhood have become afraid to go to bed at night. Repeated attempts have been made to catch the "fire-bug," but none has been successful. He has operated for almost a year.

COAL TRAIN RUNS AWAY.

Fireman Killed and Engineer Injured—Five Others Missing.

ALTOONA, Pa., November 6.—Dashing uncontrolled down the ten-mile grade on the Portage branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, a heavy coal train today crashed into four light engines standing at Portage Junction, five miles south of here. W. K. Thompson, fireman, was killed, and W. A. Baker, engineer, was so seriously injured that it was said at the hospital he could not recover. Five missing men were believed to have been buried in the wreckage.

Fire broke out in the mass of wreckage and coal, and firemen were hurried from neighboring towns.

Body on Way Home.

A cablegram has been received by C. F. Ebert, 240 Broadway, saying that the body of his son, Lieutenant Virgil V. Ebert, left Honolulu, Saturday, on a United States transport. The journey to Indianapolis will require about two weeks. Lieutenant Ebert died in Honolulu, October 31, from injuries received in a fall from his horse.

TERRE HAUTE NO PLACE FOR DECENT DEMOCRAT

HOW CHALMERS M. HAMILL HAS FARED WITH HIS PARTY.

IGNORED DURING CAMPAIGN

(Special to The Indianapolis News)

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., November 6.—A striking feature of the local political campaign just ending is the state of "innocuous desuetude"—to quote from the public utterances of a former Democratic President, who so far as known, never has been referred to by a Democratic speaker in the present contest—into which local Democracy has thrust Chalmers M. Hamill, local Democratic attorney, graduate of Princeton university, personal friend of Woodrow Wilson and assistant to Frank C. Dailey, former United States district attorney, in his prosecution of the election conspirators in the federal court. Prominent as a member of the Democratic party, a candidate two years ago for the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney, he has been ignored by the Democratic managers.

Charles Stacy Batt, Donn M. Roberts's first city attorney; George W. Wells, also a city attorney under Roberts; Peter B. May, a deputy city attorney under Roberts and the man who organized the police raid on Hamill's law office during the Roberts trial in the city court, all have been invited to speak in behalf of Wilson, but Hamill never has had a chance. On the contrary, former Roberts adherents publicly have denounced Hamill, and the local Crawford Fairbanks organ even went so far as to refer to him in a recent publication as a Republican attorney. This attitude has not been confined to the Roberts faction, either.

Praised Dailey; Ignored Hamill.

During the Roberts trial before Judge Anderson many former adherents of John E. Lamb set the stamp of approval on the action of Frank C. Dailey in prosecuting Roberts and his cohorts. During the spring of 1915 a group of Lamb men organized a public appreciation for Dailey. They gathered together and paid their public respects to Mr. Dailey and complimented him on his movement in the line of good government. Within the last few days one of the Lamb men who engineered this public honor to Dailey repudiated Chalmers Hamill and sneeringly declared that he was a Republican and was so regarded by all "decent" Democrats.

The milk in the cocoanut, however, is that in addition to prosecuting Democrats for election frauds, Mr. Hamill, secretary of the Good Government League, has issued a circular in behalf of the latter organization in which he recommends to members of the league and good citizens generally to support the Republican candidates for prosecuting attorney, sheriff and county commissioners. Last spring before the primary the league issued a circular in which certain candidates on both tickets were commended to the good graces of members of their parties. It happened, whether from design or otherwise, that the candidates for the offices on the Republican ticket recommended by the league were nominated, while all the candidates recommended by the Democrats were defeated. Following up this lead, the recent circular recommended Republicans only, and this aroused the ire of the Roberts and Lamb factions, who seemingly are united in the fight to elect the ticket nominated at the primary in March.

Hamill Well Equipped.

This is it, that Mr. Hamill, equipped by education and training to be a striking figure in the fight for the re-election of Woodrow Wilson, his former preceptor in the law, and later as general counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway, Young Hafford attended the local high school was prominent in athletics there, and later at Princeton, and is a graduate of Harvard law school.

When Frank C. Dailey resigned as district attorney, Hamill's prominence in the fight to succeed Mr. Dailey, and his name to be mentioned in connection with the appointment to succeed Mr. Dailey. Nothing came of such mention, but it shows the attention he had attracted by the appointment to succeed Mr. Dailey. It would seem, however, serves only to earn for him a back seat among the Vigo county Democracy of today.

MRS. HELMS ADDS HER TESTIMONY

Tells from a Woman's Viewpoint How Arlo Quickly Benefits.

MANY HAVE HER SYMPTOMS

Woman is subject to many disorders and has many physical weaknesses peculiar to her sex. Man is naturally more rugged, his life is carried on more freely and actively, and, therefore, as a rule, he is less prone to suffer from chronic organic derangements than a woman. For this reason, men can not always sympathize with women in their sufferings, or at least can not fully realize the seriousness of such cases, and the dangerous conditions to which these cases can lead. If allowed to drift on unattended and unassisted, natural female weaknesses can develop into conditions that may mean life-time suffering for a woman.

Woman is physically overtaxed with all of the burdens that are heaped on her, and there are very few cases where she doesn't need help. It is in such conditions that Arlo, the new tonic and builder, should be used without any delay. Made only from roots, herbs and barks, Arlo is truly a tonic of nature, and, therefore, the work it does in building up the system is done as nature would have it.

The case of Mrs. S. S. Helms, of 1439 East Washington street, Indianapolis, Ind., is very typical of the way Arlo acts. Mrs. Helms' case is best told by the use of her own words. Here follows the original signed letter written by Mrs. Helms after she had received genuine benefits from Arlo immediately.

"For years I have been troubled with pains in my back, general debility, severe headaches, no rest day or night. At times would not feel able to walk. After taking two bottles of Arlo, I commenced feeling better immediately.

"Can not recommend Arlo too highly."

(Signed) MRS. S. S. HELMS, 1439 East Washington Street.

Arlo can be obtained in Indianapolis at the Claypool Drug Store (Clarke & Cade, proprietors), corner of Illinois and Washington streets. People living out of Indianapolis can arrange to get Arlo through the exclusive Arlo agency in their town. If there is no Arlo instance in your town, write direct to Arlo, care of Claypool Drug Store, Indianapolis, Ind.—Advertisement.
